VULNERABILITY DETAILS

CVSS Base Score:	2.6 AV:N/AC:H/Au:N/C:P/I:N/A:N
CVSS Temporal Score:	2.1 E:U/RL:W/RC:C
Severity:	2
QID:	38170
Category:	General remote services
CVE ID:	-
Vendor Reference:	-
Bugtraq ID:	-
Last Update:	2025-08-05 15:37:27.0

THREAT:

An SSL Certificate associates an entity (person, organization, host, etc.) with a Public Key. In an SSL connection, the client authenticates the remote server using the server's Certificate and extracts the Public Key in the Certificate to establish the secure connection.

A certificate whose Subject commonName or subjectAltName does not match the server FQDN offers only encryption without authentication.

Please note that a false positive reporting of this vulnerability is possible in the following case:

If the common name of the certificate uses a wildcard such as *.somedomainname.com and the reverse DNS resolution of the target IP is not configured. In this case there is no way for Qualys to associate the wildcard common name to the IP. Adding a reverse DNS lookup entry to the target IP will solve this problem.

IMPACT:

A man-in-the-middle attacker can exploit this vulnerability in tandem with a DNS cache poisoning attack to lure the client to another server, and then steal all the encryption communication.

SOLUTION:

Please install a server certificate whose Subject commonName or subjectAltName matches the server FQDN.

RESULT:

Certificate #0 CN=no-sni.vercel-infra.com (no-sni.vercel-infra.com) and IP (216.198.79.65) don't match
 (no-sni.vercel-infra.com) and IP (216.198.79.65) don't match

Last Update: 2025-09-23 12:00:01.0

THREAT:

Apache Struts is an open source web application framework for developing Java EE web applications. Apache Struts2 is prone to multiple vulnerabilities:

- An input sanitization error can be exploited to inject and execute arbitrary Java code if a conversion error is encountered.
- The CookieInterceptor class does not properly restrict access to certain static methods while handling cookie names and can be exploited to execute arbitrary commands.
- Certain unspecified input is not properly sanitized by the ParameterInterceptor before being used to create files. This can be exploited to create or overwrite arbitrary files via directory traversal attacks.

Note: The detection needs hello world example application of struts2 or index.action to be present. The detection will also work if you have a link to any ".action" under default page.

QID Detection Logic (Unauthenticated):

This QID sends specifically crafted payload with a random string command in the request to check for command execution in .action files. Vulnerable targets are expected to return string "null" in the respond. Affected Versions:

Struts 2.0.0 - 2.2.3 are affected.

Struts 2.0.0 - 2.3.17 are affected.

IMPACT:

Exploitation could allow an attacker to execute arbitrary code.

SOLUTION:

This issue has been resolved in Apache Struts 2.2.3.1 and in Apache Struts 2.3.18. Refer to S2-008 for further information.

Workaround:

1) Update to Struts 2.3.1 and apply a stronger acceptedParamNames filter to the ParameterInterceptor and CookieInterceptor: acceptedParamNames = "a-zA-Z0-9\.\[\_]" +"

2) Do not run applications in developer mode.

Patch:

Following are links for downloading patches to fix the vulnerabilities:

Bugtraq ID:	10183

THREAT:

TCP provides stateful communications between hosts on a network. TCP sessions are established by a three-way handshake and use random 32-bit sequence and acknowledgement numbers to ensure the validity of traffic. A vulnerability was reported that may permit TCP sequence numbers to be more easily approximated by remote attackers. This issue affects products released by multiple vendors.

The cause of the vulnerability is that affected implementations will accept TCP sequence numbers within a certain range, known as the acknowledgement range, of the expected sequence number for a packet in the session. This is determined by the TCP window size, which is negotiated during the three-way handshake for the session. Larger TCP window sizes may be set to allow for more throughput, but the larger the TCP window size, the more probable it is to guess a TCP sequence number that falls within an acceptable range. It was initially thought that guessing an acceptable sequence number was relatively difficult for most implementations given random distribution, making this type of attack impractical. However, some implementations may make it easier to successfully approximate an acceptable TCP sequence number, making these attacks possible with a number of protocols and implementations.

This is further compounded by the fact that some implementations may support the use of the TCP Window Scale Option, as described in RFC 1323, to extend the TCP window size to a maximum value of 1 billion.

This vulnerability will permit a remote attacker to inject a SYN or RST packet into the session, causing it to be reset and effectively allowing for denial of service attacks. An attacker would exploit this issue by sending a packet to a receiving implementation with an approximated sequence number and a forged source IP address and TCP port.

There are a few factors that may present viable target implementations, such as those which depend on long-lived TCP connections, those that have known or easily guessed IP address endpoints and those implementations with easily guessed TCP source ports. It has been noted that Border Gateway Protocol (BGP) is reported to be particularly vulnerable to this type of attack, due to the use of long-lived TCP sessions and the possibility that some implementations may use the TCP Window Scale Option. As a result, this issue is likely to affect a number of routing platforms.

Another factor to consider is the relative difficulty of injecting packets into TCP sessions, as a number of receiving implementations will reassemble packets in order, dropping any duplicates. This may make some implementations more resistant to attacks than others.

It should be noted that while a number of vendors have confirmed this issue in various products, investigations are ongoing and it is likely that many other vendors and products will turn out to be vulnerable as the issue is investigated further.

IMPACT:

Successful exploitation of this issue could lead to denial of service attacks on the TCP based services of target hosts.

SOLUTION:

Please first check the results section below for the port number on which this vulnerability was detected. If that port number is known to be used for port-forwarding, then it is the backend host that is really vulnerable.

Various implementations and products including Check Point, Cisco, Cray Inc, Hitachi, Internet Initiative Japan, Inc (IIJ), Juniper Networks, NEC and Yamaha are currently undergoing review. Contact the vendors to obtain more information about affected products and fixes. NISCC Advisory 236929 - Vulnerability Issues in TCP details the vendor patch status as of the time of the advisory, and identifies resolutions and workarounds.

Refer to US-CERT Vulnerability Note VU#415294 and OSVDB Article 4030 to obtain a list of vendors affected by this issue and a note on resolutions (if any) provided by the vendor.

For Microsoft: Refer to MS05-019 and MS06-064 for further details.

For SGI IRIX: Refer to SGI Security Advisory 20040905-01-P

For SCO UnixWare 7.1.3 and 7.1.1: Refer to SCO Security Advisory SCOSA-2005.14

For Solaris (Sun Microsystems): The vendor has acknowledged the vulnerability; however a patch is not available. Refer to Sun Microsystems, Inc. Information for VU#415294 to obtain additional details. Also, refer to TA04-111A for detailed mitigating strategies against these attacks.

For NetBSD: Refer to NetBSD-SA2004-006

For Cisco: Refer to cisco-sa-20040420-tcp-ios.shtml.

For IBM : Refer to IBM-tcp-sequence-number-cve-2004-0230.

For Red Hat Linux: There is no fix available : Refer to .

Workaround:

The following BGP-specific workaround information has been provided.

For BGP implementations that support it, the TCP MD5 Signature Option should be enabled. Passwords that the MD5 checksum is applied to should be set to strong values and changed on a regular basis.

Secure BGP configuration instructions have been provided for Cisco and Juniper at these locations:

Secure Cisco IOS BGP Template

JUNOS Secure BGP Template

RESULT:

Tested on port 80 with an injected SYN/RST offset by 16 bytes.

Tested on port 443 with an injected SYN/RST offset by 16 bytes.

THREAT:

SSL Certificate Transparency is an industry effort to improve visibility into the process of how certificate authorities issue certificates. It is designed to allow the owners of domain names to find all certificates that have been issued for their domains, and which certificate authorities have issued them. This is done by requiring certificate authorities to publish all issued certificates in public logs. TLS servers can then provide cryptographic evidence to TLS clients that the server certificate has been registered in public logs, thus providing some degree of confidence that the certificate is legitimate. Such cryptographic evidence is referred to as an "SCT Log Proof".

The information below lists all validated SCT Log Proofs for server certificates along with information about the public log, where available.

There are some web servers setups that allow connections to be established using a LOW grade cipher, only to provide a web page stating that the URL is accessible only through a non-LOW grade cipher. In this case even though LOW grade cipher will be listed here QID 38140 will not be reported.

THREAT:

External domains detected in the application. Using external domains in an application introduces risk by potentially exposing the application to external threats and dependencies, which can be exploited for malicious purposes such as data exfiltration, phishing, or compromise of application integrity. These vulnerabilities arise from inadequate validation, reliance on unsecured external services, and the application's failure to enforce strict security controls over external interactions.

IMPACT:

N/A

SOLUTION:

Audit external domains accessed by your application. If possible launch scans against those.

RESULT:

External domains could be involved in potential business logic abuse.

Category: TCP/IP
CVE ID: -
Vendor Reference: -
Bugtraq ID: -
Last Update: 2004-11-19 21:53:59.0

THREAT:

TCP Initial Sequence Numbers (ISNs) obtained in the SYNACK replies from the host are analyzed to determine how random they are. The average change between subsequent ISNs and the standard deviation from the average are displayed in the RESULT section. Also included is the degree of difficulty for exploitation of the TCP ISN generation scheme used by the host.

IMPACT:

N/A

SOLUTION:

N/A

RESULT:

Average change between subsequent TCP initial sequence numbers is 1177960571 with a standard deviation of 613869490. These TCP initial sequence numbers were triggered by TCP SYN probes sent to the host at an average rate of 1/(5101 microseconds). The degree of difficulty to exploit the TCP initial sequence number generation scheme is: hard.

CVE ID: -
Vendor Reference: -

Last Update: 2020-06-24 12:42:21.0

THREAT:

Scan activity per port is an estimate of the amount of internal process time the scanner engine spent scanning a particular TCP or UDP port. This information can be useful to determine the reason for long scan times. The individual time values represent internal process time, not elapsed time, and can be longer than the total scan time because of internal parallelism. High values are often caused by slowly responding services or services on which requests time out.

THREAT:

The Host Scan Time is the period of time it takes the scanning engine to perform the vulnerability assessment of a single target host. The Host Scan Time for this host is reported in the Result section below.

The Host Scan Time does not have a direct correlation to the Duration time as displayed in the Report Summary section of a scan results report. The Duration is the period of time it takes the service to perform a scan task. The Duration includes the time it takes the service to scan all hosts, which may involve parallel scanning. It also includes the time it takes for a scanner appliance to pick up the scan task and transfer the results back to the service's Secure Operating Center. Further, when a scan task is distributed across multiple scanners, the Duration includes the time it takes to perform parallel host scanning on all scanners.

THREAT:

This check provides various details of the scan's performance and behavior. In some cases, this check can be used to identify problems that the scanner encountered when crawling the target Web application.

IMPACT:

The scan diagnostics data provides technical details about the crawler's performance and behavior. This information does not necessarily imply problems with the Web application.

SOLUTION:

No action is required.

RESULT:

Target web application page <https://216.198.79.65/> fetched. Status code:308, Content-Type:text/plain, load time:78 milliseconds.

Ineffective Session Protection. no tests enabled.

QID: 86137

Category: Web server

CVE ID: -

Vendor Reference: -

Bugtraq ID: -

Last Update: 2015-06-08 22:10:22.0

THREAT:

HTTP Strict Transport Security (HSTS) is an opt-in security enhancement that is specified by a web application through the use of a special response header. Once a supported browser receives this header that browser will prevent any communications from being sent over HTTP to the specified domain and will instead send all communications over HTTPS.

IMPACT:

N/A

SOLUTION:

N/A

RESULT:

Strict-Transport-Security: max-age=31536000; includeSubDomains

CVE ID: -
Vendor Reference: -
Bugtraq ID: -
Last Update: 2016-03-21 16:40:23.0

THREAT:

Secure Socket Layer (SSL) and Transport Layer Security (TLS) renegotiation are vulnerable to an attack in which the attacker forms a TLS connection with the target server, injects content of his choice, and then splices in a new TLS connection from a client. The server treats the client's initial TLS handshake as a renegotiation and thus believes that the initial data transmitted by the attacker is from the same entity as the subsequent client data. TLS protocol was extended to cryptographically tierenegotiations to the TLS connections they are being performed over. This is referred to as TLS secure renegotiation extension. This detection determines whether the TLS secure renegotiation extension is supported by the server or not.

IMPACT:

N/A

SOLUTION:

N/A

RESULT:

TLS Secure Renegotiation Extension Status: supported.

CVE ID: -

Vendor Reference: -

Last Update: 2021-07-12 23:14:58.0

THREAT:

SSL/TLS protocols have different version that can be supported by both the client and the server. This test attempts to send invalid protocol versions to the target in order to find out what is the target's behavior. The results section contains a table that indicates what was the target's response to each of our tests.

Secure Sockets Layer/Transport Layer Security (SSL/TLS) Protocol Properties

port 443 / tcp over ssl

PCI COMPLIANCE STATUS

PASS

VULNERABILITY DETAILS

Severity: 1

QID: 38706

Category: General remote services

CVE ID: -

Vendor Reference: -

Bugtraq ID: -

Last Update: 2021-06-09 04:32:38.0

THREAT:

The following is a list of detected SSL/TLS protocol properties.

IMPACT:

Items include:

- Extended Master Secret: indicates whether the extended_master_secret extension is supported or required by the server. This extension enhances security and is recommended. Applicable to TLSv1, TLSv1.1, TLSv1.2, DTLSv1, DTLSv1.2
- Encrypt Then MAC: indicates whether the encrypt_then_mac extension is supported or required by the server. This extension enhances the security of non-AEAD ciphers and is recommended. Applicable to TLSv1, TLSv1.1, TLSv1.2, DTLSv1, DTLSv1.2
- Heartbeat: indicates whether the heartbeat extension is supported. It is not recommended to enable this, except for DTLS. Applicable to TLSv1, TLSv1.1, TLSv1.2, TLSv1.3, DTLSv1, DTLSv1.2
- Truncated HMAC: indicates whether the truncated_hmac extension is supported. This can degrade security and is not recommended. Applicable to TLSv1, TLSv1.1, TLSv1.2, DTLSv1, DTLSv1.2
- Cipher priority: indicates whether client, server or both determine the priority of ciphers. Having the server determine the priority is recommended. Applicable to SSLv3, TLSv1, TLSv1.1, TLSv1.2, TLSv1.3, DTLSv1, DTLSv1.2

SOLUTION:

VULNERABILITY DETAILS

Severity: 1  QID: 34011
Category: Firewall
CVE ID: -
Vendor Reference: -
Bugtraq ID: -
Last Update: 2019-04-22 02:37:57.0

THREAT:

A packet filtering device protecting this IP was detected. This is likely to be a firewall or a router using access control lists (ACLs).

IMPACT:

N/A

SOLUTION:

N/A

RESULT:

Some of the ports filtered by the firewall are: 20, 21, 22, 23, 25, 53, 111, 135, 445, 1.

Listed below are the ports filtered by the firewall.

No response has been received when any of these ports are probed.

Links Rejected By Crawl Scope or Exclusion List

port 443 / tcp

PCI COMPLIANCE STATUS*PASS*VULNERABILITY DETAILS

Severity: 1
QID: 150020
Category: Web Application
CVE ID: -
Vendor Reference: -
Bugtraq ID: -
Last Update: 2022-02-07 16:48:28.0

THREAT:

One or more links were not crawled because of an explicit rule to exclude them. This also occurs if a link is malformed.

Exclude list and Include list entries can cause links to be rejected. If a scan is limited to a specific starting directory, then links outside that directory will neither be crawled or tested.

Links that contain a host name or IP address different from the target application are considered external links and not crawled by default; those types of links are not listed here. This often happens when the scope of a scan is limited to the directory of the starting URL. The scope can be changed in the Web Application Record.

During the test phase, some path-based tests may be rejected if the scan is limited to the directory of the starting URL and the test would fall outside that directory. In these cases, the number of rejected links may be too high to list in the Results section.

IMPACT:

Links listed here were neither crawled or tested by the Web application scanning engine.

SOLUTION:

A link might have been intentionally matched by a exclude or include list entry. Verify that no links in this list were unintentionally rejected.

RESULT:

Links not permitted:

(This list includes links from QIDs: 150010,150041,150143,150170)

External links discovered:

<https://vercel.com/>

IP based excluded links:

Links rejected during the test phase not reported due to volume of links.

VULNERABILITY DETAILS

Severity: 1

QID: 150009

Category: Web Application

CVE ID: -

Vendor Reference: -

Bugtraq ID: -

Last Update: 2020-07-27 21:11:30.0

THREAT:

The list of unique links crawled and HTML forms submitted by the scanner appear in the Results section. This list may contain fewer links than the maximum threshold defined.

NOTE: This list also includes:

- All the unique links that are reported in QID 150140 (Redundant links/URL paths crawled and not crawled)
- All the forms reported in QID 150152 (Forms Crawled)
- All the forms in QID 150115 (Authentication Form Found)
- Certain requests from QID 150172 (Requests Crawled)

IMPACT:

N/A

SOLUTION:

N/A

RESULT:

Duration of crawl phase (seconds): 5.00

Number of links: 3

(This number excludes form requests and links re-requested during authentication.)

THREAT:

This QID prints the information, in the form of a text record, that a web server sends back to a client's browser in response to receiving a single HTTP GET request.

QID Detection Logic:

This QID returns the HTTP response method and header information returned by a web server.

IMPACT:

N/A

SOLUTION:

N/A

RESULT:

HTTP header and method information collected on port 443.

QID:	82023
Category:	TCP/IP
CVE ID:	-
Vendor Reference:	-
Bugtraq ID:	-
Last Update:	2025-09-22 13:33:14.0

THREAT:

The port scanner enables unauthorized users with the appropriate tools to draw a map of all services on this host that can be accessed from the Internet. The test was carried out with a "stealth" port scanner so that the server does not log real connections.

The Results section displays the port number (Port), the default service listening on the port (IANA Assigned Ports/Services), the description of the service (Description) and the service that the scanner detected using service discovery (Service Detected).

IMPACT:

Unauthorized users can exploit this information to test vulnerabilities in each of the open services.

SOLUTION:

THREAT:

The values for the identification (ID) field in IP headers in IP packets from the host are analyzed to determine how random they are. The changes between subsequent ID values for either the network byte ordering or the host byte ordering, whichever is smaller, are displayed in the RESULT section along with the duration taken to send the probes. When incremental values are used, as is the case for TCP/IP implementation in many operating systems, these changes reflect the network load of the host at the time this test was conducted.

Please note that for reliability reasons only the network traffic from open TCP ports is analyzed.

External domains detected in the application. Using external domains in an application introduces risk by potentially exposing the application to external threats and dependencies, which can be exploited for malicious purposes such as data exfiltration, phishing, or compromise of application integrity. These vulnerabilities arise from inadequate validation, reliance on unsecured external services, and the application's failure to enforce strict security controls over external interactions.

CVE ID: -
Vendor Reference: Referrer-Policy
Bugtraq ID: -
Last Update: 2023-01-18 13:30:16.0

THREAT:

No Referrer Policy is specified for the link. It checks for one of the following Referrer Policy in the response headers:

- 1) no-referrer
- 2) no-referrer-when-downgrade
- 3) same-origin
- 4) origin
- 5) origin-when-cross-origin
- 6) strict-origin
- 7) strict-origin-when-cross-origin

QID Detection Logic(Unauthenticated):

If the Referrer Policy header is not found , checks in response body for meta tag containing tag name as "referrer" and one of the above Referrer Policy.

IMPACT:

The Referrer-Policy header controls how much referrer information is sent to a site when navigating to it. Absence of Referrer-Policy header can lead to leakage of sensitive information via the referrer header.

SOLUTION:

Referrer Policy header improves security by ensuring websites don't leak sensitive information via the referrer header. It's recommended to add secure Referrer Policies as a part of a defense-in-depth approach.

Web Server Supports HTTP Request Pipelining

port 443 / tcp over ssl

PCI COMPLIANCE STATUS

PASS*VULNERABILITY DETAILS

Severity: 1

QID: 86565

Category: Web server

CVE ID: -

Vendor Reference: -

Bugtraq ID: -

Last Update: 2005-02-23 00:25:38.0

THREAT:

Version 1.1 of the HTTP protocol supports URL-Request Pipelining. This means that instead of using the "Keep-Alive" method to keep the TCP connection alive over multiple requests, the protocol allows multiple HTTP URL requests to be made in the same TCP packet. Any Web server which is HTTP 1.1 compliant should then process all the URLs requested in the single TCP packet and respond as usual.

The target Web server was found to support this functionality of the HTTP 1.1 protocol.

IMPACT:

Support for URL-Request Pipelining has interesting consequences. For example, as explained in this paper by Daniel Roelker, it can be used for evading detection by Intrusion Detection Systems. Also, it can be used in HTTP Response-Splitting style attacks.

Links Rejected By Crawl Scope or Exclusion List

port 80 / tcp

PCI COMPLIANCE STATUS

VULNERABILITY DETAILS

Severity: 1
QID: 150020
Category: Web Application
CVE ID: -
Vendor Reference: -
Bugtraq ID: -
Last Update: 2022-02-07 16:48:28.0

THREAT:

One or more links were not crawled because of an explicit rule to exclude them. This also occurs if a link is malformed.

Exclude list and Include list entries can cause links to be rejected. If a scan is limited to a specific starting directory, then links outside that directory will neither be crawled or tested.

Links that contain a host name or IP address different from the target application are considered external links and not crawled by default; those types of links are not listed here. This often happens when the scope of a scan is limited to the directory of the starting URL. The scope can be changed in the Web Application Record.

During the test phase, some path-based tests may be rejected if the scan is limited to the directory of the starting URL and the test would fall outside that directory. In these cases, the number of rejected links may be too high to list in the Results section.

IMPACT:

Links listed here were neither crawled or tested by the Web application scanning engine.

SOLUTION:

A link might have been intentionally matched by a exclude or include list entry. Verify that no links in this list were unintentionally rejected.

RESULT:

Links not permitted:

Web Server Supports HTTP Request Pipelining

port 80 / tcp

PCI COMPLIANCE STATUS

PASS

VULNERABILITY DETAILS

Severity: 1

QID: 86565

Category: Web server
CVE ID: -
Vendor Reference: -
Bugtraq ID: -
Last Update: 2005-02-23 00:25:38.0

THREAT:

Version 1.1 of the HTTP protocol supports URL-Request Pipelining. This means that instead of using the "Keep-Alive" method to keep the TCP connection alive over multiple requests, the protocol allows multiple HTTP URL requests to be made in the same TCP packet. Any Web server which is HTTP 1.1 compliant should then process all the URLs requested in the single TCP packet and respond as usual.

The target Web server was found to support this functionality of the HTTP 1.1 protocol.

IMPACT:

Support for URL-Request Pipelining has interesting consequences. For example, as explained in this paper by Daniel Roelker, it can be used for evading detection by Intrusion Detection Systems. Also, it can be used in HTTP Response-Splitting style attacks.

SOLUTION:

Links Rejected By Crawl Scope or Exclusion List

VULNERABILITY DETAILS

Severity: 1
QID: 150020
Category: Web Application
CVE ID: -
Vendor Reference: -
Bugtraq ID: -
Last Update: 2022-02-07 16:48:28.0

THREAT:

One or more links were not crawled because of an explicit rule to exclude them. This also occurs if a link is malformed.

Exclude list and Include list entries can cause links to be rejected. If a scan is limited to a specific starting directory, then links outside that directory will neither be crawled or tested.

Links that contain a host name or IP address different from the target application are considered external links and not crawled by default; those types of links are not listed here. This often happens when the scope of a scan is limited to the directory of the starting URL. The scope can be changed in the Web Application Record.

During the test phase, some path-based tests may be rejected if the scan is limited to the directory of the starting URL and the test would fall outside that directory. In these cases, the number of rejected links may be too high to list in the Results section.

IMPACT:

Links listed here were neither crawled or tested by the Web application scanning engine.

SOLUTION:

A link might have been intentionally matched by a exclude or include list entry. Verify that no links in this list were unintentionally rejected.

RESULT:

Links not permitted:

(This list includes links from QIDs: 150010,150041,150143,150170)

Category: Web Application

CVE ID: -

Vendor Reference: -

Bugtraq ID: -

Last Update: 2025-04-28 20:03:36.0

THREAT:

Scan identifies various sensitive fields including fields that collect files, payment information, email addresses, postal addresses and other PII fields. These fields are accessible on web application without any authentication or access control mechanisms in place.

IMPACT:

Without authentication, attacker can determine common attack surface exposed in a web application. This commonly indicates what information is collected via Web Application.

SOLUTION:

Sensitive information collected through forms or any other means should often be protected with access control and by strong authentication mechanisms.

Last Update: 2024-11-14 18:55:13.0

THREAT:

Certificates are used for authentication purposes in different protocols such as SSL/TLS. Each certificate has a validity period outside of which it is supposed to be considered invalid. This QID is reported to inform that a certificate will expire within next six months. The advance notice can be helpful since obtaining a certificate can take some time.

IMPACT:

Expired certificates can cause connection disruptions or compromise the integrity and privacy of the connections being protected by the certificates.

SOLUTION:

Contact the certificate authority that signed your certificate to arrange for a renewal.

RESULT:

Certificate #0 CN=*.revivelifevitality.com The certificate will expire within six months: Jan 1 15:39:29 2026 GMT

THREAT:

This check provides various details of the scan's performance and behavior. In some cases, this check can be used to identify problems that the scanner encountered when crawling the target Web application.

IMPACT:

The scan diagnostics data provides technical details about the crawler's performance and behavior. This information does not necessarily imply problems with the Web application.

SOLUTION:

No action is required.

Last Update: 2013-08-15 21:12:37.0

THREAT:

The information shown in the Result section was returned by the network infrastructure responsible for routing traffic from our cloud platform to the target network (where the scanner appliance is located).

This information was returned from: 1) the WHOIS service, or 2) the infrastructure provided by the closest gateway server to our cloud platform. If your ISP is routing traffic, your ISP's gateway server returned this information.

IMPACT:

This information can be used by malicious users to gather more information about the network infrastructure that may help in launching attacks against it.

SOLUTION:

N/A

RESULT:

The network handle is: NET-216-0-0-0-0

SSL Session Caching Information

port 443 / tcp over ssl

PCI COMPLIANCE STATUS*PASS*VULNERABILITY DETAILS

Severity: 1
QID: 38291
Category: General remote services
CVE ID: -
Vendor Reference: -
Bugtraq ID: -
Last Update: 2020-03-19 22:48:23.0

THREAT:

SSL session is a collection of security parameters that are negotiated by the SSL client and server for each SSL connection. SSL session caching is targeted to reduce the overhead of negotiations in recurring SSL connections. SSL sessions can be reused to resume an earlier connection or to establish multiple simultaneous connections. The client suggests an SSL session to be reused by identifying the session with a Session-ID during SSL handshake. If the server finds it appropriate to reuse the session, then they both proceed to secure communication with already known security parameters.

This test determines if SSL session caching is enabled on the host.

IMPACT:

SSL session caching is part of the SSL and TLS protocols and is not a security threat. The result of this test is for informational purposes only.

SOLUTION:

N/A

RESULT:

TLSv1.2 session caching is enabled on the target.

Links Rejected By Crawl Scope or Exclusion List

port 80 / tcp

PCI COMPLIANCE STATUS

PASS

VULNERABILITY DETAILS

Severity: 1

QID: 150020

Category: Web Application

CVE ID: -

Vendor Reference: -

Bugtraq ID: -

Last Update: 2022-02-07 16:48:28.0

THREAT:

One or more links were not crawled because of an explicit rule to exclude them. This also occurs if a link is malformed.

Exclude list and Include list entries can cause links to be rejected. If a scan is limited to a specific starting directory, then links outside that directory will neither be crawled or tested.

Links that contain a host name or IP address different from the target application are considered external links and not crawled by default; those types of links are not listed here. This often happens when the scope of a scan is limited to the directory of the starting URL. The scope can be changed in the Web Application Record.

During the test phase, some path-based tests may be rejected if the scan is limited to the directory of the starting URL and the test would fall outside that directory. In these cases, the number of rejected links may be too high to list in the Results section.

IMPACT:

Links listed here were neither crawled or tested by the Web application scanning engine.

SOLUTION:

A link might have been intentionally matched by a exclude or include list entry. Verify that no links in this list were unintentionally rejected.

RESULT:

Links not permitted:

(This list includes links from QIDs: 150010,150041,150143,150170)

External links discovered:

IP based excluded links:

Links rejected during the test phase not reported due to volume of links.

VULNERABILITY DETAILS

Severity: 1

QID: 82040

Category: TCP/IP

CVE ID: -

Vendor Reference: -

Bugtraq ID: -

Last Update: 2003-01-16 20:14:30.0

THREAT:

ICMP (Internet Control and Error Message Protocol) is a protocol encapsulated in IP packets. ICMP's principal purpose is to provide a protocol layer that informs gateways of the inter-connectivity and accessibility of other gateways or hosts.

We have sent the following types of packets to trigger the host to send us ICMP replies:

Echo Request (to trigger Echo Reply)
Timestamp Request (to trigger Timestamp Reply)
Address Mask Request (to trigger Address Mask Reply)
UDP Packet (to trigger Port Unreachable Reply)
IP Packet with Protocol >= 250 (to trigger Protocol Unreachable Reply)

Listed in the "Result" section are the ICMP replies that we have received.

IMPACT:

Hosts Not Alive*Option Profile*Scan

Scanned TCP Ports:	Full
Scanned UDP Ports:	Standard Scan
Scan Dead Hosts:	Off
Load Balancer Detection:	Off
Password Brute Forcing	Standard
Vulnerability Detection	Complete
Windows Authentication:	Disabled
SSH Authentication:	Disabled
Oracle Authentication:	Disabled
SNMP Authentication:	Disabled
Perform 3-way Handshake:	Off

Advanced

Hosts Discovery:	TCP Standard Scan, UDP Standard Scan, ICMP On
Ignore RST packets:	Off
Ignore firewall-generated SYN-ACK packets:	Off
Do not send ACK or SYN-ACK packets during host discovery:	Off

Report Legend*Payment Card Industry (PCI) Status

An overall PCI compliance status of PASSED indicates that all hosts in the report passed the PCI compliance standards. A PCI compliance status of PASSED for a single host/IP indicates that no vulnerabilities or potential vulnerabilities, as defined by the PCI DSS compliance standards set by the PCI Council, were detected on the host.

An overall PCI compliance status of FAILED indicates that at least one host in the report failed to meet the PCI compliance standards. A PCI compliance status of FAILED for a single host/IP indicates that at least one vulnerability or potential vulnerability, as defined by the PCI DSS compliance standards set by the PCI Council, was detected on the host.

Vulnerability Levels

A Vulnerability is a design flaw or mis-configuration which makes your network (or a host on your network) susceptible to malicious attacks from local or remote users. Vulnerabilities can exist in several areas of your network, such as in your firewalls, FTP servers, Web servers, operating systems or CGI bins. Depending on the level of the security risk, the successful exploitation of a vulnerability can vary from the disclosure of information about the host to a complete compromise of the host.

Severity	Level	Description
	1 Minimal	Intruders can collect information about the host (open ports, services, etc.) and may be able to use this information to find other vulnerabilities.
	2 Medium	Intruders may be able to collect sensitive information from the host, such as the precise version of software installed. With this information, intruders can easily exploit known vulnerabilities specific to software versions.

	3 Serious	Intruders may be able to gain access to specific information stored on the host, including security settings. This could result in potential misuse of the host by intruders. For example, vulnerabilities at this level may include partial disclosure of file contents, access to certain files on the host, directory browsing, disclosure of filtering rules and security mechanisms, denial of service attacks, and unauthorized use of services, such as mail-relaying.
	4 Critical	Intruders can possibly gain control of the host, or there may be potential leakage of highly sensitive information. For example, vulnerabilities at this level may include full read access to files, potential backdoors, or a listing of all the users on the host.
	5 Urgent	Intruders can easily gain control of the host, which can lead to the compromise of your entire network security. For example, vulnerabilities at this level may include full read and write access to files, remote execution of commands, and the presence of backdoors.

Severity	Level	Description
	Low	A vulnerability with a CVSS base score of 0.0 through 3.9. These vulnerabilities are not required to be fixed to pass PCI compliance.
	Medium	A vulnerability with a CVSS base score of 4.0 through 6.9. These vulnerabilities must be fixed to pass PCI compliance.
	High	A vulnerability with a CVSS base score of 7.0 through 10.0. These vulnerabilities must be fixed to pass PCI compliance.

Potential Vulnerability Levels

A potential vulnerability is one which we cannot confirm exists. The only way to verify the existence of such vulnerabilities on your network would be to perform an intrusive scan, which could result in a denial of service. This is strictly against our policy. Instead, we urge you to investigate these potential vulnerabilities further.

Severity	Level	Description
	1 Minimal	If this vulnerability exists on your system, intruders can collect information about the host (open ports, services, etc.) and may be able to use this information to find other vulnerabilities.
	2 Medium	If this vulnerability exists on your system, intruders may be able to collect sensitive information from the host, such as the precise version of software installed. With this information, intruders can easily exploit known vulnerabilities specific to software versions.
	3 Serious	If this vulnerability exists on your system, intruders may be able to gain access to specific information stored on the host, including security settings. This could result in potential misuse of the host by intruders. For example, vulnerabilities at this level may include partial disclosure of file contents, access to certain files on the host, directory browsing, disclosure of filtering rules and security mechanisms, denial of service attacks, and unauthorized use of services, such as mail-relaying.
	4 Critical	If this vulnerability exists on your system, intruders can possibly gain control of the host, or there may be potential leakage of highly sensitive information. For example, vulnerabilities at this level may include full read access to files, potential backdoors, or a listing of all the users on the host.
	5 Urgent	If this vulnerability exists on your system, intruders can easily gain control of the host, which can lead to the compromise of your entire network security. For example, vulnerabilities at this level may include full read and write access to files, remote execution of commands, and the presence of backdoors.

Severity	Level	Description
	Low	A potential vulnerability with a CVSS base score of 0.0 through 3.9. These vulnerabilities are not required to be fixed to pass PCI compliance.
	Medium	A potential vulnerability with a CVSS base score of 4.0 through 6.9. These vulnerabilities must be fixed to pass PCI compliance.
	High	A potential vulnerability with a CVSS base score of 7.0 through 10.0. These vulnerabilities must be fixed to pass PCI compliance.

Information Gathered

Information Gathered includes visible information about the network related to the host, such as traceroute information, Internet Service Provider (ISP), or a list of reachable hosts. Information Gathered severity levels also include Network Mapping data, such as detected firewalls, SMTP banners, or a list of open TCP services.

Severity	Level	Description
	1 Minimal	Intruders may be able to retrieve sensitive information related to the host, such as open UDP and TCP services lists, and detection of firewalls.
	2 Medium	Intruders may be able to determine the operating system running on the host, and view banner versions.
	3 Serious	Intruders may be able to detect highly sensitive data, such as global system user lists.
